All the retu:ns are complete in New York. On Friday evening every precinct in that great State had made its official returns to the County Clerks. On Saturday committees of both parties visited the offices of every County Clerk in New York State and spent the day examining those returns with the greatest possible care, both for clerical and legal earors. Saturday night it was known by both parties, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that, accord ing to the face of the returns, that Cleveland and Hendricks had car ried the State by a pleurality of 1212 to 1234, the latter being the official figures as appears on the returns. Many technical errors bave been discovered, and some few cler be corrected readily, and have been discovered, and do not alter Cleve land's plurality one hundred either way.
